"When Roosevelt is elected he'll bust the trusts," exclaims a Republican exchange. Yep, we can already see the trusts licking off their lips where Teddy bussed the trusts.

The Stanly Enterprise says: "Let the press keep sober." It also ought to be careful how it soaks other folks.

"What can be done to cure women of the woman suffrage peril?" asks an exchange. We pass it on to Lydia Pinkham.

As we go to press, with more or less of "the freedom," it is rumored that Col. Bryan still insists that he is the Democratic end-seat man.

If Col. Andrew Carnegie wants to die poor let him put his money up on the chance to organize a White Man's Republican party in the South.

Col. Bryan says "Cleveland wrecked the ship of Democracy." The tug Bryan parted two hawsers in the attempt to pull the wreck off. Bring on another tug.

If Roosevelt wants to make us believe he is not in the game with the trusts he will have to kick against the Republican deal that gives them a royal tariff flush.

It took five shocks to kill a negro who was electrocuted last Saturday in the Ohio penitentiary. He must have had the resistant vitality of some politicians who persist in holding on to the live wire.

Judge Parker is being twitted because he refuses to talk. If he had talked he would have been criticised. He simply preferred to make the critics twitter. They are bound to admit that our candidate is the possessor of equine intellectuality.

Our exchanges are now giving us editorials on "Arbitration or War." As it is getting to be common now to make war on North Carolina editors, beligerents will please be gentlemanly enough to send in an arbitration ultimatum before they get into trouble by trying to pass over the mines in the STAR's harbor.

Says the esteemed Norfolk Landmark: "That was an ingenious North Carolina jury which rendered a verdict of "Guilty, but innocently." "Proven, but not guilty" would express the same idea." This reminds us of the Virginia jury which rendered this verdict: "Not guilty, but he had better not do it again."

A dip in the ocean these hot afternoons is a pleasure beyond compare—car every half hour in the afternoon.

LOCAL DOTS.

—The Board of Audit and Finance will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

—Mr. F. W. Bonitz left yesterday for Whiteville, taking with him a force of carpenters who will begin work on handsome residences in that town for Dr. W. Ross Davis and Mrs. V. V. Richardson. The plans were drawn by Architect H. E. Bonitz.

— Elaborate Children's Day exercises were held at Brooklyn Baptist church Sunday night. A pleasing address by the pastor and highly creditable exercises by the children were the features of the celebration.

— Yesterday's Columbia State says that the hull of the steamer "Highlander," will probably be raised and the boat rebuilt, if the machinery is in condition. In the meantime Manager Love hopes to charter a boat until the "Highlander" is rebuilt.

— Mr. and Mrs. John Richard Whitaker, of Enfield, N. C., have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Hampden, to Mr. Walter Thomas Clement, Wednesday afternoon, June 29th, 1904, at 5:30 o'clock, Church of the Advent, Enfield, N. C. The bride-to-be has relatives here and the prospective groom is a prominent tobacconist of his section.

— Invitations reading as follows have been received: "Mrs. Nannie E. Jordan requests the honor of your presence at the marriage of her daughter, Maud Alma, to Mr. Warren M. Decker on Wednesday evening, June twenty-ninth, nineteen hundred and four, at nine o'clock, First Presbyterian Church, High Point, North Carolina." Mr. Decker is well known in Wilmington, having a position here with the Postal Telegraph Co.

MR. J. J. WOODWARD DEAD.

Venerable Father of Esteemed Wilmington Citizen Passed Away at Fayetteville.

The Fayetteville Observer of yesterday afternoon chronicles the death of Mr. A. J. Woodward, the venerable father of Wilmington's esteemed citizen, Col. W. J. Woodward. Mr. Woodward passed away Sunday morning at his residence on Haymount, in Fayetteville, in the 87th year of his age, having been born in Raleigh on June 10th, 1818. He came to Fayetteville to live in early manhood, and in October, 1840, married Miss Carrie Mitchell, daughter of the late William Mitchell, who survives him, with eight children, viz: Messrs. W. J. Woodward, of Wilmington; G. W. Woodward, of Durham; Pembroke Woodward, of Fayetteville, and Joel Woodward, of Georgia; Mrs. W. G. Whiting, of Scotland Neck; Mrs. Geo. H. Hall, of Red Springs; Misses Emma and Alice Woodward, of Fayetteville. Col. Woodward, Mr. G. W. Woodward, of Durham; Maj. and Mrs. G. H. Hall, of Red Springs, and Mrs. W. C. Whiting, of Scotland Neck, were with Mr. Woodward when he died.

The Fayetteville Observer pays this tribute to the deceased:

"Mr. Woodward was a member of Hay Street Methodist church, and was a man of positive, forcible character, with the courage of his convictions. For many years before, during and after the close of the civil war he was successfully engaged in the clothing business on Market Square, but for the latter part of his life has been engaged in trucking and fruit raising at his place southwest of the city."

The funeral took place from Hay Street church at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry, of which Mr. Woodward was the oldest member, formed a part of the funeral escort.

NEWS OF THE EXCURSIONS.

Gough's "Flyer" to Raleigh—Two Sunday School Parties on the Way.

"Gough's Rapid Flyer" left for Raleigh at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, carrying 125 Wilmington people, including the Fort Caswell baseball team, which played the Raleigh nine yesterday afternoon. Other passengers were taken aboard as the train proceeded as far as Sanford. The Caswell ball team expects to play Wake Forest to-day. The excursion left Raleigh last midnight and is expected to arrive here on the return early this morning. To-day Mr. Gough will bring down a big Sunday school excursion from Lumberton, passengers being received only from that point.

To-morrow one of the largest excursions of the season will arrive for two days in the city and at the beach. Reference is made to the Pritchard Memorial Sunday school excursion from Charlotte. Fully a thousand visitors are expected on the train, which will probably be run in two sections. Passengers will be received as far this way as Rockingham.

Seashore Arrivals.

Among Sunday's and yesterday's arrivals at the Seashore Hotel were: G. L. Bush, F. P. Maffatt, R. A. McKnight, D. W. Oates and W. G. Harris and wife, of Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Townsend, of Bennettsville, S. C., E. G. Davis, Dunn, N. C., J. A. Parker, Raleigh; Ben C. Holland, Enfield.

A PYTHIAN WELCOME.

Grand Chancellor Robertson Honored by Fellow Wilmington Knights Last Evening.

AN ELABORATE RECEPTION.

Members of the Order Out En Masse in Appreciation—Music, Speeches and Refreshments Features of the Entertainment—Notes.

Pythians of Wilmington turned out en masse with great enthusiasm last night to formally welcome upon his return to the city, Grand Chancellor Wm. F. Robertson, who was elected to the head of the order in the domain of North Carolina at the sessions of the Grand Lodge in Winston-Salem last week, the occasion having been a reception in honor of their distinguished fellow Pythian by the four lodges in the city. The affair had been arranged by a joint committee of entertainment of which Past Chancellor John Haar, of Germania Lodge, was chairman and he presided over the delightful gathering with grace and ease. The formality of the opening of the lodge having been observed, Mr. Haar referred with enthusiasm to the election of Grand Chancellor Robertson, at Winston, congratulated the order upon so wise a selection and explained that the meeting was for the purpose of giving expression to the delight of Wilmington Pythians upon the elevation of one of their number to the high office to which he had been called.

Capt. W. F. Corbett never at a loss for choice language to express happy ideas, followed Mr. Haar in a congratulatory speech and presented the Grand Chancellor.

Major Robertson spoke extemporaneously but well, thanking his brethren for the manifestation of their interest in him and joy over his success. He was thankful also for many favors conferred upon him since he joined grand old Stonewall lodge eleven years ago. He then spoke of the incidents and history surrounding the foundation of the Pythian brotherhood in Washington City in 1864, dwelling upon the conditions of unrest and fratricidal tendency then existing, near the close of a war in which brother's hand had been against brother and father's against son. It was wonderful that an order whose tenets had ever been friendship, charity and benevolence should have had its inception in those stirring times. Certainly the hand of Providence must have been in the fashioning of the structure, which had stood the test of years so well. Three-quarters of a million American people now embrace its teaching and carry themselves triumphantly under its tri-colored banner.

Speaking of less remote things, the Grand Chancellor spoke of the wave of fraternalism now passing over the State and spoke with fervor of the spirit of brotherly love which dominated the late Grand Lodge meeting in Winston. Enthusiastically he spoke of the future of Pythianism within the domain of North Carolina, declaring that the good work of the order in the State was not yet half accomplished His speech was a bright augury for his administration during the ensuing twelve-month. In closing he paid a tribute to two other distinguished Wilmington Pythians—Capt T. D. Meares, who had been honored with the position of Master of Exchequer of the Supreme Lodge, and Col. Walker Taylor, chairman of the Grand Lodge Judiciary Committee, one of the most important of the organization in the State. He also spoke of the happy coincidence that Grand Chancellor J. A. Summerset, of the South Carolina Grand Lodge, is a native of New Hanover county North Carolina but now an adopted son of the Palmetto State, while the newly elected Grand Chancellor of North Carolina is a native of South Carolina, but is now an adopted son of the Old North State and a resident of New Hanover.

Grand Chancellor Robertson received warmest applause and was given a hearty hand-shake by all the Pythians attending the reception. Other remarks were made by Messrs. S. Behrends, J. J. Hopkins, W. H. Yopp, W. O. Page, H. E. Bonitz, Dr. W. C. Galloway and Iredell Meares, Esq.

An elegant repast followed the exercises, music having been furnished by the Italian Orchestra. The joint committee of arrangements was composed as follows, Mr. John Haar having acted as chairman and Mr. J. D. Kelley secretary, viz: Messrs. L. L. Boone, W. H. Yopp and J. D. Kelley, of Stonewall Lodge No. 1; W. C. VonGlahn, J. G. Smith and O. L. Barnwell, Clarendon No. 2; John Haar, S. Behrends and Jake Duls, Germania No. 4, and Anson Alligood, L. B. Bogers and Capt. J. C. Morrison, Jefferson No. 61.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following real estate transfers appear from deeds filed for record yesterday: John Garrison and wife to Maria Jones, for $10, property on the north side of Rankin, 223 feet east of Anderson street, 30x66 feet. John Garrison and wife to Caroline Ivey, for $10, property on North side of Rankin, 162 feet east of Anderson street 30½x66 feet in size. Anderson Stroud and D. A. Stroud and wife, property on west side of Twelfth street, 165 feet north of Dawson street, 33x165 feet in size; no consideration was named.

— Mr. J. W. Norwood, of Greenville, S. C., is a guest at The Orton.

THEY'RE OFF TO GREENSBORO.

New Hanover Delegates Are Leaving for State Convention in Gratifying Number—Brunswick Contingent.

Col. Walker Taylor, chairman of the New Hanover delegation to the State Convention, and Sheriff Frank H. Stedman left last night for Greensboro to be present at the opening of the convention Thursday at noon. Maj. W. H. Bernard will leave this morning and Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy, Mr. J. Walter Williamson and perhaps others, will leave this morning via Raleigh. The largest crowd will leave to-morrow morning on the A. & Y. train at 8:45 o'clock, reaching Greensboro at 4:50 the same evening. The fare for the round trip is one and one-third first-class fares, plus 25c., or $8.05 from Wilmington. It is expected that the New Hanover delegation will number at least twenty-five. Chairman Geo. H. Bellamy sends word that Brunswick will also send up a strong delegation. It is entirely unnecessary to say that both counties will be as a unit for Stedman for Governor.

Col. George L. Morton, candidate for Lieut. Governor, expected to have left last night for the convention, but owing to the illness of his mother, who suffered a sudden attack yesterday morning, he may not be able to leave until to-morrow and, perhaps, not then.

The balloting for the nomination of Governor will probably not begin before late Thursday night or Friday morning, if the order of business as recommended by the State Committee is adopted. However, the committee's order may be disregarded and the balloting begun earlier.

MARRIED AT PINEWOOD, S. C.

Mr. J. B. Ward, of Wilmington, Claims Fair Palmetto State Bride.

At the residence of Mr. D. R. Lide, brother of the bride, at Pinewood, S. C., Sunday June 19th, a very pretty and impressive marriage ceremony was solemnized when Mr. J. B. Ward, of this city, led to the hymeneal altar Miss Sue Lide, of Pinewood.

The parlor of the home was decorated with palms, ferns and numerous other potted plants and flowers presenting a very pretty appearance. At 1 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor, the bride becomingly attired in a handsome gown of white silk and carrying a bouquet of white carnations, where in the presence of a large assemblage of their most intimate friends, the Rev. L. L. Bedenbaugh read the beautiful marriage service of the M. E. church. Immediately after the ceremony the guests assembled in the spacious dining room of the home where a sumptuous wedding repast was served.

After receiving the congratulations of their many friends the bride and groom boarded the northbound train on which they arrived in this city about midnight where they were met by a number of friends who escorted them to the home of the groom's mother, Mr. Ida C. Ward, on North Fourth street.

The bride is one of Pinewood's most charming young ladies, while the groom is the popular chief clerk in the forwarding department of the A. C. L. freight office in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Ward will be at home after June 21st at 813 North Fourth street.

Dog Colony Increasing.

In the opinion of the officers who are presiding over the destinies of the dog cart, there are a larger number of canines in Wilmington now than ever before. The sale of dog badges the first ten days up to last night amounted to over 650, whereas the total number sold the entire season last year was only little more than a thousand. Dogs without badges are scooped up by the dog cart net and carried to the City Hall where they are kept a few days awaiting payment of the tax by the owners. In the event of the failure of the owner to pay the tax the animals will be killed. Five or six were captured Friday, ten on Saturday and ten yesterday. Chief Furlong is preparing to build an enclosure in the city pound for the captive dogs.

Death of Mrs. L. K. Bland.

Mrs. Louisa K. Bland, widow of the late Thomas Bland, died Saturday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. W. Rivenbark, No. 517 North Fourth street. She was 74 years of age and a woman of strong Christian character. She leaves to mourn their loss a son, Mr. B. Moore, of South Washington, and a daughter, Mrs. Rivenbark, of this city. The remains were sent to Currie yesterday morning for interment in the family burying ground, the pall-bearers having been Messrs. J. W. Rivenbark, E. C. Dailey, T. J. Wiggins, L. W. Rivenbark and J. W. Parker.

A. C. L. Depot Burned.

A special from Washington, N. C., to the Charlotte Observer says that lightning struck the Atlantic Coast Line passenger depot there Sunday afternoon, causing a destructive fire. After two hours fighting the fire department put out the flames, leaving a gutted building. The city water works proved utterly valueless, there being at no time more than 50 pounds pressure. The loss $10,000; fully insured.

Lease City Docks.

Elsewhere in to-day's STAR will be foud official advertisement offering for lease for a period of four years ten of the city docks, the condition being that the same will be repaired and returned to the city in good condition at the expiration of the term of lease. Proposals will be received until 11 A. M. June 28th.

HOW SAY YOU ALL?

Gubernatorial Candidates Sounded as to Position by Anti-Saloon League Man.

MAJ. STEDMAN'S APT REPLY.

Erroneous Report of Withdrawal Stirs Up a Mare's Nest in the Arena—Turner. Delegates Already Moving on Greensboro—Other News.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., June 20.—J. W. Bailey, manager of the North Carolina Anti-Saloon League, has interrogated the various Democratic candidates for Governor as to their position on temperance measures. He gave out their replies to-night and in discussing the matter expresses special pleasure at Major Stedman's response to the questions he propounded. The following inquiry was sent Saturday to Glenn, Stedman, Turner and Davidson:

"There is a persistent report that the North Carolina liquor dealers are supporting one of the candidates for Governor. Will you wire me your position as to temperance? Will you stand by the Watts act and anti-jug law, supporting all reasonable measures in the interest of temperance?

The replies were as follows:

MAJOR STEDMAN'S REPLY.

GREENSBORO, June 20.—Recognizing the right of citizens to interrogate a candidate for public office, I reply to your telegram. I believe in and practice temperance, support all reasonable measures in its interest, will stand by my party and if elected Governor will execute temperance laws and all other laws which now are or hereafter may be enacted and placed upon the statute books. If the Liquor Dealers' Association is supporting any of the candidates, I do not know it. It is not supporting me. If elected Governor I will enter upon the discharge of the duties of that high office absolutely untrammeled and free from entangling alliances of all kinds."

GENERAL DAVIDSON'S RESPONSE

ASHEVILLE, June 19.—Am surprised at your inquiry. My legislative public record since 1878, was open to you. I never think one way and act another."

CAPTAIN GLENN'S ANSWER.

WINSTON-SALEM, June 20.—"I am not in any way supported by the North Carolina Liquor Dealers' Association. My record as a friend of temperance is public and well known. I will support all reasonable just temperance legislation calculated to improve the moral condition of the State and at the same time preserve the integrity of the Democratic party."

MR. TURNER'S POSITION.

STATESVILLE, June 19.—"Yes, I favor temperance and laws to encourage sobriety. I know nothing about the reports mentioned."

Governor Aycock says he wishes to emphatically deny the persistent reports that he is a candidate for election as delegate to the National Convention. He could not go to St. Louis were he made a delegate.

GREENSBORO, N. C., June 20.—In consequence of repeated inquiries received here from remote sections of the State to-day, if a rumor current in them that Turner had withdrawn from the gubernatorial race in favor of Glenn were true, a telegram was sent Turner at Statesville of the report and asking if there could possibly be any truth in it. An answer has been received from him stating that it was absolutely false; that he had no idea of withdrawing and was in the race to a finish. Before receiving this assurance, so frequent and insistent had been the messages asking about the report, it not only created considerable surprize here but intense concern. Upon receiving the assurance of the falsity of the report it then became a common surmise that it had been preconcertedly started in the interest of another candidate and indignation succeeded surprise. Unexpectedly to people here, the hotels to-night show the presence of many advance arrivals for the convention.

MR. W. E. PICKARD DEAD.

Well Known A. C. L. Locomotive Engineer at Rest—Funeral To-day.

Mr. William E. Pickard, for a number of years one of the most trusted locomotive engineers in the service of the Atlantic Coast Line, died yesterday morning at 3 o'clock at his home, No. 221 North Fourth street, after an illness of about six months with rheumatism and tuberculosis.

Mr. Pickard was well known in Wilmington and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. He was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church and also of St. John's Lodge No. 1, A. F. & A. M. Deceased is survived by his wife and two daughters. The children are Misses Nellie and Grace Pickard. He is also survived by a brother, Mr. J. D. Pickard, of New York. Capt. T. S. Franklin, of Charlotte, and Mr. D. E. Franklin, of Fayetteville, brothers of Mrs. Pickard, are in the city to attend the funeral, which will be held at 9:30 o'clock this morning from the late residence. Members of St. John's Lodge of Masons are officially called to assemble at the Temple at 9 o'clock this morning for the purpose of attending the funeral in a body. The burial will be with the honors of that order.

Mayor's Court Yesterday.

Eight defendants were fined an aggregate of $45 and costs, amounting in all to $63, in the police court yesterday, while one vagrant was given a straight sentence of 30 days to the roads and one was bound over to Superior Court charged with carrying a concealed weapon. Matthew Hughes, colored, was the vagrant and he was found asleep at foot of Chesnut street, Julius Haynes, a country negro, was arrested for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk by Special Officer Theo. Swann and when searched at the police station a pistol was found on his person.

STONE AND CONSTRUCTION CO.

Machinery of Wilmington Enterprise Levied Upon by Former Stockholder.

To satisfy a judgment of $1,679.89, docketed in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court in favor of J. D. Farrior, an execution was issued yesterday against the Wilmington Stone & Construction Co., which has had a somewhat checkered career since its organization here about two years ago to manufacture hollow concrete building blocks. The sheriff served the execution, levying upon two machines at the building of Mr. W. A. Willson, Jr., at Ninth and Market streets, and another at work upon blocks for the Boys' Brigade armory at Second and Ann streets. The last named was left in operation in charge of the sheriff by consent of Herbert McClammy, Esq., counsel for the plaintiff, but the other two machines were carted to the Court House and stored in the basement. Later, it is presumed, that the property will be sold to satisfy the claim of Mr. Farrior, who was at one time a leading stockholder in the enterprise.

Opera House Improvements.

The Opera House improvements are now well under way and Contractor James H. Burriss is making a neat job of the work. The ceiling, which was the most difficult part of the contract, is now about completed. Some fine lumber was used and the surface is almost as smooth as glass. It will be painted sea green. The change of the proscenium arch will be made this week.

DR. HALE ON THE DISPENSARY.

Preached to Large Congregation at First Baptist Church on Sunday Night.

The novelty of the discussion of a question of quasi-secular nature from the pulpit always appeals to many and in consequence thereof a very large congregation heard Pastor Fred D. Hale's discourse at the First Baptist church Sunday night upon the subject of the establishment of a dispensary in Wilmington. Those who attended the service, however, with an appetite for the sensational were disappointed. After justifying himself in the introduction of such a discussion and saying that he conceived it to be the duty of the minister to speak out on all moral questions, however much they might pertain to worldly affairs, he launched forth into a Biblical discussion of the temperance question, which engaged the undivided attention of his hearers for nearly an hour. He had no words of abuse for the saloon keeper, but aimed the shafts of his arguments at the authorities who license them. He declared first for prohibition in toto, accepting the dispensary as a temporary and a compromise measure. He declared his purpose two years hence to speak just as vigorously against the one saloon in the form of a dispensary that would succeed the 66 saloons now in existence, as he was then speaking against the 65 other saloons whom the one would put out of business. In his original and forceful way, it is fair to judge that Pastor Hale made enemies of none by the sermon, and gave his congregation an interesting discussion of the subject from his personal point of view.

Moving Pictures Popular.

The moving pictures at the Casino, Wrightsville Beach, are proving very successful as a free attraction. This week there is a a change of bill, some of the views being "A Discordant Note," "Orphans in the Surf," "The Office Boy's Revenge," "Babies Feeding the Chickens," "Under the Mistletoe" and "A Voyage to the Arctics." The exhibitions are given nightly, beginning at 9 o'clock, except on Sundays, Mondays and Thursdays.

Encampment Elects Officers.

Campbell Encampment No. 1, I. O. O. F. last night elected the following officers who, with the appointive officers, will be installed by D. D. G. P. Chas. W. Stewart on the first meeting night in July to serve for the ensuing term, viz: C. P., A. G. Martin; H. P., A. F. Gibson; S. W., J. A. Jordan; J. W., C. W. Craig; Scribe, John E. Wood; Treasurer, N. Jacobi.

Progress of Tax Listing.

Only about 2,100 of the 6,000 persons liable have thus far listed their taxes and two thirds of the time has expired. The remaining ten days will be a rush for the listers, who have comfortable quarters on the second floor of the City Hall building.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

St. John's Lodge No. 1, A. F. & A. M.

There will be a special communication of St. John's Lodge No. 1, A. F. and A. M., at Temple Hall, at 9 o'clock A. M., this (Tuesday) June 21, 1904, for the purpose of paying the last tribute of respect to our deceased brother, W. E. Pickard. WILLIAM H BERNARD.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 21.

EDITOR STEVENS ASSAULTED AT NEWBERN.

We regretted to note in the Newbern Journal of Saturday an editorial that indicated that there is trouble in the Democratic camp in the city of Newbern. In the same paper was a card signed by Mr. L. G. Daniels, expressing dissatisfaction with the manner of appointing the delegates of Craven county in the State convention. The editorial had reference to the matter complained of by Mr. Daniels, but the editor in what he had to say did not mention any names, but disapproved of the methods by which the delegation was appointed. The editorial aimed at giving a warning in behalf of harmony.

W. W. Clark, Esq., a member of the Newbern bar, took exceptions to both the card and editorial, considering that they reflected on the delegation to Greensboro as well as on himself. On Saturday morning, he saw Editor Stevens in front of Ennett's bookstore and slapped him and hit him with his fist. The editor made an attempt to defend himself and thereupon Mr. D. W Bailey, a friend of Mr. Clark, joined in the assault on Mr. Stevens. Notwithstanding that there were two on one, Mr. Clark picked up a music rack and hit the editor with it, following up the retreating editor with a slap or hit which caused Mr. Stevens to fall through Mr. Hibbard's show window. Mr. Tom Watson then got hold of Mr. Clark and pulled him away.

We know nothing of the cause of the bad feeling, but the affair was extremely ugly. The Journal states that "the attack was an extremely vicious one, inasmuch as Mr. Stevens was not well, having been confined to his room the greater part of two days the past week and suffering very greatly from weakness." The card was over the signature of a man well known in the community and the editor was picked out for the assault. People who want to rush into print to speak their mind about things can see in this instance, as well as from the assault on the editor of the Asheville paper last week, that editors some times have to "hold the bag" for something that other people are responsible for.

The assault on Editor Stevens with a music rack being assault with a deadly weapon, Mr. Clark was bound over to court. Mr. Bailey, expressed regret and was let off with a suspension of judgment upon payment of the costs.

THE CHICAGO SELECTION.

One of Roosevelt's books throws slime on the memory of Jackson, Pierce, and other Presidents in setting them down as political tricksters. If he thought that of these great Americans, what must be his opinion of himself for using the White House for his political scheming and conferences?

Notwithstanding the fact that Roosevelt found McKinley's shoes an incongruous misfit, he began at once to lay plans for his own nomination for the Presidency. He fixed things on that line, selected his own running mate, made one of his cabinet officers national chairman, played the role of the demagogue in selecting a negro to be one of those to second his nomination, and in many ways has shown himself to be a political wirepuller of the first water. This is the man whom the Republican national convention is to assemble at Chicago to-day to nominate—no—rather to ratify Roosevelt's nomination to himself.

Roosevelt pretended not to want little underling Federal office holders to figure in conventions. Don't that frost you as a piece of political sanctity in view of his own didos! Here is a good slap from the Utica, N. Y. Observer:

It is not surprising that the party that could calmly contemplate the spectacle of a Cabinet officer as national chairman and a Governor as State chairman could regard with equanimity the employment of Government clerks to promote the interests of a party fight.

WITH APOLOGIES TO ESOP.

Once upon a time a big-necked bull browzed in a meadow and ate the grass which a fly considered that he had an end seat right to as a roosting place. With blood in his eye, the fly lit on the bull's horn and after wiggling his hind legs in a scornful manner railed out at the bull: "You brute! I have got you by the horns and have a notion to break your neck."

With a twinkle in his eye the bull gave a sudden lash with his tail and brought the fly such a whack that it caused a funeral in the fly family. "That will teach you," said the bull to the fly, which had been laid out in state, "that my tail is my protection when little things like you bother me."

This fable teaches that when a fly has a notion to take a bull by the horns it should first see that the bull's protection is cut off. Likewise there is instruction for one Roosevelt who wants to take the trusts by the horns. Verily there should be wisdom enough in the household of even a fool to cut off the trusts' protection before any thought can be taken about breaking their necks.

CURRENT COMMENT.

— The price of meat is said to be higher than at any time since the civil war. The statement is made that another advance may be expected soon. Viewed from the standpoint of the Trust, this is business. To the consumer it has all the aspect of deliberate robbery.—New York American.

— No small amount of interest among Republicans as well as among Democrats attaches to what Mr. Bryan may do at and after the St. Louis convention. It is as certain as anything of the sort can be beforehand that he will not be in the saddle. He will have a horse more or less dark ready to put into the race, but that it will be badly beaten is a foregone conclusion.—Utica Press.

— The State campaign begins at Sumter next Tuesday. The people of that city are going to give the candidates a cordial welcome, and they evidently expect a warm time. The Herald says: "The campaign has opened with a cowhiding, and it is therefore likely that it will prove warmer than had been looked for. The meeting here Tuesday will be watched with interest for any further developments or actions of a belligerent nature."—Columbia Record.

— Mr. Richard H. Edmonds, editor of the "Manufacturers' Record," has a wonderfully impressive way of handling the statistics of the South's development. To be told that the value of the last year's cotton crop, including the seed, was $860,000,000 is to have the attention attracted, of course, but we are getting used to enormous totals. It is when Mr. Edmonds informs us that the value of the cotton crop is twice that of the world's annual gold production that he awakens our minds fully to the importance of the South's great staple.—Norfolk Landmark.

TWINKLINGS.

— "When did shingles first come into use, pop?" "Well, my son, I began to use them first when you were about sixteen months old."—Yonkers Statesman.

— "Does that young Mrs. Blinkey support her husband?" "Support him! You might call it that if you want to. She holds him up every Saturday night."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

—"I see Follansby is on his legs again." "No, he isn't. He hasn't a halfpenny. Had to sell his horse and carriage. "That's what I mean. Now he walks."—London Tit-Bits.

— "Have a care madam," said Mr. Mecker, summoning up a little drunk. "The worm will turn!" "Did you ever know the worm to hurt anybody when it turned?" calmly asked his wife.

— Teacher—Can any little boy tell me how it was that David prevailed against the giant Goliath? Pupil—My pa says brute strength never is in it with the feller with a pocketful of rocks.—Boston Transcript.

— "Are you going to re-elect that man to Congress in spite of the insinuations against him?" "Sure," answered Farmer Corntossel. "Those insinuations have done him good. He hasn't been so sociable and entertaining in years."—Washington Star.

— "Wait a minute, Mr. Snap," said Mrs. Starvem, "and we'll have the catsup on the table. "O, don't!" protested the sarcastic boarder, examining his small portion of cold meat. "Don't be so cruel to them." "Cruel to whom?" "The cats. There's not enough here for them."—Catholic Standard and Times.

— "What do you consider the hardest scene you ever acted?" "It is difficult to say off-hand," answered Mr. Stormington Barnes. "One of the most difficult was the scene in 'The Merchant of Venice' recently when I had to refuse thousands of imaginary ducats when I didn't have thirty real cents in my pocket."—Washington Star.

How to Make Plum Pudding Balls.

If the remains of a plum pudding or any sort of a suet pudding are not presentable for another serving they can be made into little balls. Brush with melted butter and lemon to moisten, then wrap each in a paraffin paper, twisting or tying tight; set them in a steamer and steam until heated through; take from the paper and serve with hot foamy sauce. If one has not quite enough pudding for the serving add a beaten egg, a few raisins and a little lemon juice to Boston brown bread crumbs; mix with the pudding to make the desired quantity. The addition will not be detected, for the pudding will be quite as good.

How to Make Surprise Walnuts.

Split English walnuts in halves, taking care not to crush the shells, and remove the meats. Gild the outside of the halved shells and dry them. These make dainty receptacles for small Christmas gifts, jewelry, money, candies, raisins or caraway seeds. Fill a half shell with the gift or candies, insert a loop of baby ribbon by which to hang the nut to the tree and glue to it the corresponding half shell. For variation the shell may be painted to represent old women's faces and a dainthem penwipers or needlebooks or them penwipers or needlebooks, or they may contain amusing mottoes and be placed, ungilded, with other nuts at dinner.

How to Improve the Voice.

There is nothing more attractive than a musical speaking voice in woman. It denotes refinement and culture, and by the exercise of certain muscles it can be brought to perfection as well as the singing voice. To accomplish this throw out the tongue as far as possible, then turn it back, touching the palate with tip of tongue. This is the leading exercise of several others.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, June 20.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of three to five points on the old crop, while the new crop was two points higher to two points lower. The steadiness was due to rather better cables than expected, accompanied by very bullish private advices from Liverpool to the effect that an advance was probable on the theory that the market was oversold. The early weather reports, however, were almost ideal; showers being needed in sections where dry weather was beginning to give ground for some complaint and after some irregularity around the opening figures the market turned very weak under aggressive selling by the South and large local room traders. There were occasional slight reactions during the balance of the session, but as a general thing the list ruled very weak, particularly on the old crop months whose premiums over the later positions were still further reduced. The lowest level of the day was reached in the late trading, when July sold at 10.55, August 10.33, October 9.44 and December 9.42, these being net declines on the old crop of twenty-seven to forty-two points and of about eighteen points on the later positions. Toward the close the market rallied slightly on room covering and was finally steady at a net loss of twenty-four to thirty-seven points on the old crop and of fifteen to twenty-one points on the new crop months. Sales were estimated at 350,000 bales.

After continuing steady immediately following the local opening Liverpool weakened and closed at about the proper figure. It was reported during the day that market leaders were buying openly in New Orleans but the South was a free seller in the local market during the entire session as a result of the excellent weather and report of unsatisfactory trade conditions. Southern spot markets were generally quiet and unchanged to 3-8c lower. The local spot market declined forty-five points to 11.25 or about 1½c. below the price on the same day last year.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Cotton was quoted quiet at 11.25c, net receipts 91 bales; gross receipts 91 bales; stock — bales.

KIDNEY DANGERS

Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary organs are on the increase to an alarming extent, and often a dangerous stage is reached before the victim is aware of his affliction. Immediate attention should be given to the first symptoms, no matter how slight they may appear. Pains in the back, Dizziness, Irregularities and change in color of urine, frequent desire to urinate, etc., are warnings of nature of a derangement of these important organs.

STUART'S GIN AND BUCHU is a tested remedy for these diseases, and has made some wonderful cures. It acts immediately, and its curative power is seen at once. It can be relied upon even in advanced dangerous stages of the disease.

Samples Sent Free.

Everyone is invited to test this remedy free, and a trial sample will be sent without cost to all who send their name and address to STUART DRUG CO., Atlanta, Ga.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Elm City Elevator: Marion Butler did not surprise North Carolinians by coming out for Roosevelt but what the people hereabouts want to know is what he expects to get out of it.

— Two colored children of Thad Rogers, of near Greenville, ate some honey and immediately were taken ill and one of them died. It is the opinion of the physician that the bees sucked the honey from the yellow jesamine.

— Mr. Gordon Galamore, a drug clerk of Hendersonville, while in bathing with several young men in a small lake on the grounds of the Hendersonville Park and Amusement Company, was drowned on Friday night. He was swimming across the lake and went down in 20 feet of water.

— Winston-Salem Sentinel: The leaf tobacco sales on this market this week aggregated 170,341 pounds, making a total of 19,986,410 pounds for the year. It is estimated that more than a million pounds of last year's crop is to be marketed yet. The new crop looks promising It is generally conceded that it will not be as large as last year as a much smaller amount was planted.

— Newbern Journal, June 19th: There was another very heavy shipment of Irish potatoes from here yesterday both by rail and steamer. The movement of potatoes is keeping up unusually well, on account of the enormous crop that was grown. Those moving now it is said is of better stock than a week or so ago. The price has held up exceedingly well also. On the Newbern market yesterday best quality easily brought $2 while seconds were selling for $1.50.

— In North Carolina during the year ending May 1st, there were 5,300 cases of smallpox. This is a much larger number than in any previous year. The number of deaths was the smallest. There were 2,800 cases among the whites and 2,500 among colored people. For the first time the number of white cases exceeded the colored. The total number of cases since the disease appeared in January, 1898, is 15,000.

— Rutherford Sun: It is getting time that our people should wake up. The pulpit and press should speak now or never. The divorce evil is the greatest curse of the age and the very foundation of our home life is being shaken. No nation can long exist that has no home life. The greatness of a people is based upon the conditions of the home. Those people who have fallen in the past were those who forgot the sanctity of their hearths. The hope of this Republic rests with the future of our homes. Let us plead for a better home life, and in so doing stamp out the divorce evil.

— Salisbury Sun, June 18th: A well known Salisburian went South last night, and his departure has been followed by numerous rumors in regard to the disappearance of a valuable diamond ring and of unpleasantness in his home. The affair has created considerable comment on the streets to-day. The Sun made a diligent effort to ascertain the facts in the case, but was unable to gather anything that justify the publication of names or anything definite in the matter. This much is certain, a stranger in the city claims that he is minus a valuable diamond ring and that a well known citizen bunnoed him for it, and it is also a fact that this particular individual has left town. The police have the matter in hand.

— In spite of the fact that a Woman's Annex is to be established in connection with Trinity College, at Durham, the plans for the rebuilding of the Greensboro Female College will probably continue. It is understood that the ladies of the Alumnæ Association and those representing that organization are especially active in their canvass for funds now, and that they are meeting with much success. Those who have in charge the matter of reviving this old institution say that it will not conflict at all with the Woman's Annex at Trinity, as the two schools will do work of an entirely different grade. The curriculum of the Greensboro College will not be as high as that of the Durham, but it will do work that is fully as important. Ii will seek the patronage of girls who want merely a general education and who do not desire to take advanced courses of study in the different branches.

— Greensboro Record: While it is of course not true that Judge Boyd and his court officers are not imitating the Honorable Josephus Daniels, still they are going "higher up" after men said to be concerned in the whiskey fraud cases. While those in Greensboro who know O. A. Starbuck, who was Saturday indicted at Charlotte by the Federal grand jury, have the least idea he profited by the transactions in which he is said to be somewhat concerned, it is evident that District Attorney Holton is marching "higher up" as he goes along. What makes it more interesting is that he is still marching and one hears rumors that are startling concerning officials whose indictment would create a genuine sensation. The people, we take it, have no desire to see others in trouble, but they do want to see crime punished, and these whiskey fraud cases are simply terrible, having a systematic plan whereby the government has been robbed of perhaps a hundred thousand dollars if not more.

Startling Evidence.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, of Benterville, Va., serves as example. He writes; "I had bronchitis for three years, and doctored all the time without being benefitted. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles, Consumption, Pneumonia and Grip. Guaranteed by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. Trial bottles free; regular sizes 50c and $1.00.

Dr. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK WOMEN.

How to Prevent a Repetition of Gifts.

"The use of a Christmas notebook," advises a writer in the Pittsburg Press, "will prevent many of the holiday misfits that are always awkward and sometimes extremely embarrassing. Each year in mine goes a list of all the presents I give and receive and the names accompanying every gift. The children have their ages tabulated against the gift sent, so that as the years go on I may not offend the boy preparing for college with a bag of marbles or the girl thinking of her first long gown with a doll. Our friends' children have a trick of springing up with remarkable suddenness, and these humiliating experiences are very common. But chiefly does the Christmas notebook prevent repetition of gifts. Holiday inspirations seem to move in a cycle of their own. Once entered they produce impressions with sometimes most unfortunate accuracy. To one friend to whom I gave a reading glass three years ago I have twice since been on the point of sending another, saved each time by my Christmas memory book. Fans for two young cousins seem to be my first Christmas thought each year from the time two years ago that I bestowed them on these relatives, and so on. In my own rather large family I should make many blunders except for the sure guide of date, name and article duly inscribed. Everybody nowadays has so much to think about that needless details should be spared them, and while notebook memories are rather despised they are much better at Christmas than untimely or resurrected remembrances."

Can anything be worse than to feel that every minute will be your last! Such was the experience Mrs. S. H. Newson, of Decatur, Ala. "For three years," she writes, "I endured insufferable pain from indigestion, stomach and bowel trouble. Death seemed inevitable when doctors and all remedies failed. At length I was induced to try Electric Bitters, and the result was miraculous. I improved at once, and now I'm completely recovered." For Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Bowel troubles Electric Bitters is the only medicine. Only 50c. It's guaranteed by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. The Morning Star

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING JUNE 21.

FAIRBANKS ON THE TICKET WITH ROOSEVELT.

New York Decides to Cast Her Vote for Him in the Republican National Convention To-day in Chicago.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, June 20.—The nomination of Senator Charles W. Fairbanks for vice president was regarded as settled to-night, when New York decided to cast her seventy-eight votes for him. While it has seemed a foregone conclusion for some time that the Indiana senator would be Mr. Roosevelt's running mate, there have been efforts made to bring out other candidates and start a stampede of delegates for some other man. These attempts failed almost in their inception and it early became apparent that Fairbanks was the choice of most of the candidates. New York's action was more formal than that of other States and practically settled all doubt, even among those who were opposed to the condition. All that it has been possible to obtain from him was a statement that he did not consider the honor one a man should seek or decline, and that if the party wanted him and needed him he would accept, although he was not a candidate and would not allow the Indiana delegation to express itself in favor of his nomination. This attitude seemed to irritate some of the leaders, who saw no reason, why the senator should not come squarely out with a formal statement.

With the time occupied in caucuses of State delegations, which, with a few exceptions were mere ratification meetings held to approve State convention programmes, the day preceding the opening of the Republican National Convention has been the quietest ever known as the forerunner of similar gatherings. Senators and representatives in Congress were as thick on the streets and in the hotel lobbies as they are in the national capital when a particular uneventful or dry debate is in progress in Congress. Figures prominent in the political strife of former national conventions were everywhere. They mingled with delegates and others not on the inside of everything which promised even momentary interest.

When the leaders reached Chicago a few days ago they found nothing for them to do. The programme for the convention was mapped out weeks ago and there was a full realization that it was unalterable.

Governor Cummins presented to the Hawkeye delegation the "Iowa Idea" in an entirely new dress. It was in the form of a plank setting forth the "idea" as a declaration for reciprocity and reduction of tariff schedules. It was rejected by the delegation and this sounded its death knell so far as the present convention was concerned.

In the Illinois caucus the contest was for the chairmanship of the delegation. Senator Cullom was opposed by the Governor Yates faction, but won out handily. It is conceded that his defeat would have prevented his re-election.

MURDER IN THE TENDERLOIN.

Negro Woman Shot and Killed by Her Husband, a White Man.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Ida Howard, alias "Goldie" Moran, a negress who was known as the "Colored Badger Queen of the Tenderloin," was shot and killed to-day by her common law husband, Charles J. Arthur, twenty-five years old, a white man. The shooting was the culmination of a quarrel in which the couple had been engaged for more than a week, and occurred after Arthur had been apparently deserted by the woman. Arthur was arrested as he was about to fire a fifth shot in the woman's body as she lay in the street where she had fallen, and on the way to the police station he was menaced by negroes, who sought vengeance for the death of a member of their race. Ida Howard was 28 years old and was exceptionally pretty. Arthur said he had intended to shoot himself after killing the woman, because, he added, she had ruined his life. He was locked up on a charge of murder.

VIRGINIA MILITARY INSTITUTE.

Survivors of Battle of New Market Presented With Crosses of Honor.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RICHMOND, VA., June 20.—One of the most interesting features of the finals of the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington took place to-day, when all of the survivors of the famous New Market charge, by the cadets of the institute, were presented with crosses of honor for their heroism at the battle. Of the 293 cadets who took part in the battle of New Market which was fought May 15th, 1864, only 178 are now known to be living.

What has been popularly termed the "Indiana puzzle" was one of the features of the day. The members of the delegation from the Hoosier State met to determine their course in regard to the boom for Senator Fairbanks for the vice presidency. Senator Fairbanks attended the meeting and addressed the delegates. He talked for fifteen minutes, the meeting adjourned, and the delegation was no wiser concerning his wishes, beyond a reiteration of his statement that he did not desire his State to present his name for the vice presidency.

BATTLE REPORTED NEAR KAI-CHOU.

Dispatch from Tokio Reports an Engagement With the Vladivostok Squadron.

SITUATION AT PORT ARTHUR.

The Fighting at Vafangow--Russians Sustained Heavy Losses—Russia Negotiating for the Purchase of Argentine Cruisers.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LIAO YANG, June 20,—A general engagement is proceeding near Kai Chou. The first train bearing wounded men has passed through here, going northward.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 20.—The War Office expects news of a fight with General Kuroki. It is thought that General Oku is pursuing General Stakelberg.

TOKIO, June 20, 6 P. M.—It is reported that Vice Admiral Kumimura is engaging the Russian Vladivostok squadron off Oshima. The Navy Department has no confirmation of the report, but hopes that it may be true.

LONDON, June 20, 4 P. M.—There is a possibility that the Russian Vladivostok squadron is again in the Corean channel. A report from Shimonoseki states that cannonading was heard there to-day.

The Battle of Vafangow.

NEW CHWANG, 6 A. M., June 20.—A Russian officer who was wounded in the battle at Vafangow (Telissu) told an Associated Press correspondent that the losses on both sides were severe. He placed the Russian casualties as at least 7,000. He says no soldiers in the world could withstand the Japanese as they have been fighting lately. Their artillery fire, he claims, is marvelously effective. The Russians fought stubbornly, but were unable to withstand the enemy's dashing persistency. Several hundred wounded Russians have been sent north owing to a lack of hospitals and surgeons. All the available transportation has to be used for supplies at the expense of the sick and wounded. It is estimated on information obtainable that the Japanese force moving northward is 70,000 strong, with 90,000 men in the aggregate engaged in the operations at Port Arthur. Several Japanese spies have recently been captured a few miles south of New Chwang. The Russians are becoming more vigilant and are watching newspaper messages closely.

Japanese Report.

TOKIO, June 20. — Further reports received show that the blow inflicted by General Oku on the Russians in the fighting at Telissu (Vafangow), on June 15th, was more severe than at first was believed. The number of Russians killed in this battle will probably exceed two thousand and their total loss, including prisoners, is estimated at 10,000. The Japanese losses are less than 1,000, or about one-tenth of the Russian total.

Up to June 17th, General Oku had buried 1,516 Russian dead and he reports that many more dead have been found.

Chinese who watched the fighting from the Russian side report that the Russians removed many dead to the trains with their wounded, and that they buried or cremated many corpses in the village of Hua Sung Kou before they retreated.

The number of prisoners and trophies taken by the Japanese is encouraging. General Oku is not yet able to report the total number of prisoners.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 20, 5:05 P. M.—A detailed report of the Russian losses at the battle of Vafangow given out this afternoon places the total at three thousand killed and wounded, mostly men who belonged to the troops forming the Russian flank.

Heavy Firing.

LIAO YANG, June 20.—A correspondent of the Associated Press who spent the night at Heil-Chen, reports having heard heavy firing to the southward and believes it to have been either an attack upon Tashichiao or the Japanese fleet again bombarding the coast near Kai Ping. The firing continued from 10 o'clock at night until two in the morning. No explanation of the exact cause of it has yet been obtained.

Negotiating for Cruisers.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 20, 2:00 P. M.—It is now definitely established that negotiations for the purchase by Russia of six Argentine cruisers had almost reached a successful conclusion when Argentina raised the question as to under what flag they would be transferred, she being unwilling to sell direct to a belligerent. The medium through which the negotiations were conducted suggested that they be transferred to Venezuela, Costa Rica or Bulgaria, which would turn them over to Russia, but President Roca rejected the proposal, insisting that a bonafide maritime power should be the purchaser. Then Turkey began negotiations through the Argentine legation at Paris. The result of these negotiations is not known.

Reduction of Port Arthur.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—An explanation of the Japanese campaign on the Liao Tung peninsula, especially with reference to Port Arthur, is contained in advices that have reached this city from sources believed to be absolutely reliable. The Japanese tactics which have so puzzled the Russians are intended to isolate Port Arthur, but do not contemplate an attack on the place by General Oku's army. The actual work of reducing Port Arthur will be confided to another Japanese army under command of General Nogi, which will be landed on the peninsula—and indeed may even now be landed—at a point south of General Oku's position and considerably nearer Port Arthur. On the 1st of June no less than twenty-six transports had been gathered at one of the Japanese ports to embark this army, and it is probable that the vessels attacked by the Vladivostock squadron were of this number.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 20, 5:06 P. M.—The Vladivostok squadron returned to port yesterday. The admiralty has received a long report of Vice Admiral Bezobrazoff's cruise. It does not mention a bombardment of the Japanese coast.

The Russian Vessels.

TOKIO, June 20, 9 P. M.—The Russian Vladivostok squadron did not come into the strait of Corea to-day. The suspicion of their presence there, referred to previously in these dispatches, was based on the flashing of search lights seen off Oki island last night. The Japanese made careful disposition of their warships to intercept the enemy, but when daybreak came there was no sign of them in the strait.

The weather is clear and it is believed that the Russian vessels have again swung to the north.

Over 200 Witnesses Summoned—Proof Adduced That Life-Preservers Were Rotten, Fire Hose Burst and Life Rafts Were Useless.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, June 20.—All along the East river from North Brother Island down to what are known as the Sunken Meadows, search was made to-day for bodies of unfortunates who lost their lives in the disaster to the excursion steamer General Slocum last Wednesday. Although more than 630 bodies had been recovered up to last night, reports from the first few minutes of work to-day added five more to the total. These were found at widely separated points, and the searchers were of the opinion that before the day ended the list of missing would be considerably decreased. They believe that the big steamers and other craft will so stir up the water as to cause bodies lying along the bed of the river to rise to the surface.

Wreckers at work on the wreck of the Slocum to-day encountered new difficulties. They were at work about the hull of the sunken steamer when they found that instead of the hull resting in mud as they thought, it rested on rocks which were never known to exist. This, they say, will delay the work somewhat.

Several more bodies were recovered during the forenoon, some of them in the vicinity of the wreck of the Slocum.

Four divers were at work near North Brother Island to-day searching for bodies. A diver reports that at a depth of 95 feet he has discovered a large hollow in which he says there are a great many bodies.

More than 200 witnesses had been summoned to appear at the inquest which was scheduled to begin before Coroner Berry to-day. It also was planned to have present an assistant United States district attorney and a stenographer with instructions from the Department of Justice to take down all the testimony offered. As fast as the notes are transcribed the evidence will be examined by United States District Attorney Burnett, who will in turn forward the evidence, together with his opinion thereon, to the Department.

"If the evidence warrants it," said General Burnett to-day, "I shall not wait until the end of the inquest before moving in the matter. If the evidence is strong enough the Federal grand jury will be considering certain phases of the cases long before the inquest has closed."

In addition to the interest which the Department of Justice was taking in the inquest, H. K. Smith, the legal representative of Secretary Cortelyou, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, was under instructions to keep that department thoroughly advised as the inquest progresses.

It was expected that striking facts would be adduced at the inquest, for in addition to the proof that the life-preservers were rotten, that the fire-hose burst, that the life-boat davits would not work and that the life rafts were so fastened to the decks that they could not be moved, Coroner Barry was said to have evidence that many of the ring-preservers were so heavy that they sank like lead. Two bodies were found on the bottom of the river with these ring-preservers around them. Another charge which the coroner was to investigate was one to the effect that a portion of the guard rail, to which four bodies were found clinging when it was raised from the bottom of the river yesterday, was rotten and worm-eaten.

A resident of Jersey City, named Workman, who lost two daughters and a son in the disaster, returned home last night after having visited the scene of the wreck, and after attending memorial services during the day, blew his brains out with a revolver.

Coroner's Inquest.

The coroner's jury was quickly secured. President Barnaby, of the Knickerbocker Steamboat Company, owner of the General Slocum, was the first witness, and from him it was learned that the actual operation of the steamer was under Captain Van-Schaick, who received his instructions from Captain Pease. On application of the latter, he said, an inspection of the Slocum was made by the United States authorities before she was put in commission this year, adding, "it was reported to us that the Slocum was in thorough trim, good order and working condition."

He had not personally inspected the boat, but said he had examined the reports of the company's inspection and officially by the United States inspection officers.

The certificate of United States inspection was placed in evidence. It certified that on May 7th, 1904, the General Slocum was in good condition to carry 2,500 passengers and that it had aboard 2,350 life-preservers.

The bills for life-preservers, presented by Mr. Barnaby, which were dated in different months in 1903, 1903 and 1904, upon examination proved to have orginally borne the name "Grand Republic." This name had been scratched out and the name "General Slocum" substituted. When this fact was called to Mr. Barnaby's attention he was unable to explain why anything of this kind had been done. The books of the company, however, would show what supplies went to the Slocum and what to the Grand Republic.

Asked if the ledgers would not show how many life preservers were bought for the Slocum since she was built in 1891, Mr. Barnaby said he was not sure that all the ledgers could be found.

Mr. Barnaby said that he had instructed Captain Pease at the opening of the season to put the Slocum "in first class condition and to spare no expense. We spent $12,000 on the repairs suggested."

He said the company estimated the boat as worth $165,000 and carried $70,000 insurance on her. Asked if the boat was considered a good risk, he replied: "We paid the lowest possible premium."

According to the testimony of John J. Coakley, one of the Slocum's deckhands, at the coroner's inquest, he never had been instructed in fire drills since he became an employe of the Knickerbocker Company at the beginning of last season. Coakley said he first learned that the steamer was on fire when a small boy called his attention to smoke rolling down from the bow.

Coakley said he ran up toward the bow of the steamer and found a blaze in the locker where the oil lamps were kept. He dumped charcoal on it, hoping to smother the flames; then he let down the hose and called for assistance. The fire was so hot that he and those who came to help him were driven out of the locker, but they got the hose in position and had directed a stream on the fire when the hose burst.

It was impossible to reach any of the life rafts, because of the panic, but one of the life boats was lowered. The other boats were so surrounded by struggling persons that the crew could not get to them. The boat which they succeeded in clearing and which was filled with women and children, capsized while it was being lowered from the davits.

Several of the men corroborated Coakley's story in most of the details, but none of them knew of a life-boat being lowered.

One of the men, James Corcoran, described the rubber washer attached to the stand-pipe to prevent water dripping into the hose and rotting it. To get this washer off so the hose could be used, it would have been necessary to disconnect the hose from the stand-pipe. Corcoran did not see this done.

Edward Flanagan, the mate for the last two seasons on the Slocum who hired the deck crew of that boat, said that the forward cabin where the fire broke out was used for storing old lines and worn-out awnings and brooms. He had one barrel of sperm oil there, and there were some empty barrels that had contained oil.

"Were there any arrangements to turn steam into the lower deck?"

"Not to my knowledge."

Flanagan denied any knowledge of the "false washer" which blocked the fire hose. He said he manned the water pipes as soon as possible, but when the water pressure came the hose burst. Flanagan gave testimony as to the visits of the inspectors and said they condemned some of the life-preservers.

The inquest was adjourned until to-morrow.

More Bodies Recovered.

The list of those who perished on the General Slocum is growing at an alarming rate. Bodies came to the surface to-day off the shores of North Brother Island singly and in groups of twos and threes until at dusk ninety-three additional had been recovered. Every passing steamer seemed to churn up the water to such a degree that with its wash one or more bodies would be swept in to the beach. Between the hours of three and six in the afternoon forty-five bodies, some of them badly mutilated, were taken ashore by the searching parties. This brings the total number of bodies recovered up to 725 and yet there are something like three hundred unaccounted for. A number of these are among the unidentified at the morgue and over on North Brother Island and the "unrecognizable" that have been buried in the Lutheran cemetery on Long Island.
